AMWARE

CHECKLIST

DOES AI NAME YOUR BUSINESS?

Check whether AI answers name you, fix the pages the engines read, and earn the mentions that count.

AMWARE

CHECKLIST

DOES AI NAME YOUR BUSINESS?

Use this on one buyer question, from the first honest test to the monthly habit.

1 GET YOUR BASELINE

- [ ] Write ten questions a buyer types in the days before they choose, in their own words.
- [ ] Cross out every definition question and keep the category, problem and comparison ones.
- [ ] Check the list against your last ten sales calls and cut anything no buyer has said.
- [ ] Ask each question on two or three engines in a fresh chat, with your name left out.
- [ ] Log whether you are named, which competitors are named and which pages are cited.
- [ ] Pick the one question you most want to win and work that one first.

2 OPEN THE DOOR TO THE CRAWLERS

- [ ] Open yoursite.com/robots.txt and list any search crawler under a disallow line.
- [ ] Check your host, CDN and security plugin settings for any block on AI bots.
- [ ] Read your server logs to see which AI search crawlers actually visit.
- [ ] Allow the search crawlers you want to appear in, and block only training crawlers if you choose to.
- [ ] Confirm the key answers are plain text in the page source, outside images and PDFs.

3 REWRITE THE PAGE THEY READ

- [ ] Change the heading to the buyer's question in their exact words.
- [ ] Put the answer in the first sentence under it, before any background.
- [ ] Back the answer with a real figure, range or quote from your own records.
- [ ] Link every figure on the page to where it came from.
- [ ] Byline the page to a named person and add a two-line bio that shows why they know.
- [ ] Put one description sentence of what you do and for whom on your site and every profile.

4

EARN THE MENTIONS AND LINKS

- [ ] List the sites that link to the competitor who outranks you and not to you.
- [ ] Check the Manual actions report before anyone sells you a toxic link cleanup.
- [ ] Publish one figure from your own records, with its sample, period and source.
- [ ] Write the headline figure as one sentence a reporter can paste, with your name in it.
- [ ] Answer reporter requests in your field the same day they are posted.
- [ ] Search for pages that name you without a link and send a note naming the exact paragraph.
- [ ] Find dead links on resource pages in your field and offer your live page as the replacement.
- [ ] Approach the author of the cited page that feeds the most answers, with a real reason you belong.

5

RUN THE MONTHLY LOOP

- [ ] Rerun the same questions in fresh chats and write down this month's share of answer.
- [ ] Ask each engine to describe your business and note every wrong or out-of-date fact.
- [ ] Trace each wrong fact to the page it came from and fix your own pages first.
- [ ] Name the first broken phase on one lost question and make that one move only.
- [ ] Book next month's run in the calendar before you close the file.

WORK WITH AMWARE

Want the site built so AI can read it?

Bring this checklist to your free 15-minute intro call. With a site or starting from scratch, we go over what you need and whether a One Pager, a Company Site or custom work fits.

Book a free intro call →

cal.com/amware/build-intro-call